Professional Experience

Technical Writer II, Amazon Web Services   07/2025 – Present
                                                                        Austin, TX

- Leveraged generative AI to expand CLI and SDK reference example coverage using prompts and Amazon Q CLI.
- Worked collaboratively on an open-source project that provides customers CLI tutorials for various use cases across AWS and allows them to generate their own using prompts.
- Used generative AI to create CloudFormation templates and create a chapter for using CloudFormation with Amazon ECS.
- Worked individually and in partnership to document features for Amazon ECS and AWS Cloud Map in a docs-as-code environment.

Technical Writer I, Amazon Web Services   07/2023 – 06/2025
                                                                        Austin, TX

- Worked on Amazon ECS documentation in a collaborative, multi-writer environment and AWS Cloud Map documentation as a solo writer.
- Refactored content in Amazon ECS and AWS Cloud Map developer guides to be scenario-based (task, procedure, concept, troubleshooting etc.).
- Created feature documentation across multiple mediums such as API/CLI reference, CloudFormation reference, developer guide, and UI text in a docs-as-code environment while adhering to internal style guide.

Technical Writer Intern, Amazon Web Services   06/2022 – 08/2022

- Created and rewrote cross-service tutorials in the Amazon ECS developer guide to address customer demands.
- Replaced outdated AWS CLI reference examples. Created sample AWS CloudFormation templates for ECS resources using JSON and YAML.
- Fixed CDK examples in JavaScript and TypeScript.
- Authored in a docs-as-code workflow.
